

How You Can Submit Your Comments on the Draft EIS

Comment Form

Comment forms are available in the registration area. If you would like to give us written comments, please feel free to use the comment form and drop it off at the registration table when you leave. Alternatively, you may mail your comments to the Department of Energy at the address listed below. Also, please provide us with your name, address, and telephone number for any follow-up information or any questions concerning the intent of your comments.

Court Reporter

A court reporter is available to take your comments verbally.

U.S. Mail

Written comments or suggestions concerning the draft EIS or requests for more information on the public meeting process should be directed to:

Timothy A. Frazier, EIS Document Manager
U.S. Department of Energy
Office of Nuclear Energy, Science and Technology
NE-50/Germantown Building
1000 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20585-1290

e-Mail

You may submit your comments electronically to the following e-mail address:
ConsolidationEIS@nuclear.energy.gov

Toll-Free Phone

In addition to providing comments at the public meetings, all interested parties are invited to record their comments, ask questions concerning the draft EIS, or request to be placed on the final EIS mailing or document distribution list by leaving a message on the EIS hotline at 1-800-919-3706. The hotline will have instructions on how to record comments and requests.

Facsimile

A fax number is also available to submit your comments: 1-800-919-3765

All comments are due August 29, 2005; those received by that date will be considered by DOE in preparation of the final EIS. Comments received after that date will be considered to the extent practicable.
